Social media is growing rapidly. Now more and more people are accessing social media with various purposes according to their needs, such as to find entertainment, find information, and share information. In addition to snapchat, and Instagram there is a social media that is popular, namely the TikTok application.¹

TikTok is a popular app in Indonesia and has many users of all ages. TikTok is an application that displays short videos that are made so interesting by each content creator. In addition to watching, users can also give a like sign on the video, give a comment, download it and even make their own video. Now TikTok has been downloaded by more than 300 million users. There are many TikTok content creators from their respective fields starting to carry out their roles through this application because they see many people who are more interested in TikTok than other applications. TikTok in addition to being used as a means of entertainment is also used for educational events and sharing information in the form of short videos displayed on TikTok. We chose the TikTok application for this research because we saw the many interests of people who use the TikTok application in their daily lives, be it for entertainment, learning facilities or sharing information. There are many people who are more interested in seeing information and education on TikTok. In addition, on TikTok we can see and interact with our research objects, namely the followers of content creators on TikTok. We can see the followers who commented on the video and we can assess whether it can be the object of our research or not.

The formulation of the problem in this article is whether there is an influence for followers of content creators when viewing sexual harassment prevention videos on TikTok. Do followers get information about sexual harassment? Whether videos about preventing sexual harassment in women changes perspectives on women? Whether through the TikTok application can be more effective for TikTok activists in disseminating information and counseling about sexual harassment prevention. This study uses and effect theory. This theory connects users, media, audiences, and effects (results). The Uses and Effect theory is a synthesis between traditional theories of effects and the theory of uses and gratification, so this theory explains that need becomes a factor in the use of media. The most important part of this thinking is the concept of use or use itself. If attributed to research, this theory emphasizes the use of the TikTok social network, whether its use is effective and has an effect on its users. Knowing the effects of the use of social networks will make it possible to understand and predict the outcome of the communication process, Sven Windahl in. Therefore, based on the background above, through this article the author has the goal to find out whether the counseling carried out by TikTok activists who discuss the prevention of sexual harassment in women can be effective. To find out how much influence there is counseling in the form of videos in the TikTok application carried out by content creator activists in an effort to prevent sexual harassment in women.

Previous research on the prevention of sexual abuse through the media has been conducted by Nafi' and Kustiningsih. Their research shows that anti-sexual violence campaigns through Instagram by @indonesiafeminis and caring @perempuan successfully imparted anti-sexual violence knowledge to social media users. Research on the prevention of sexual harassment on social media was also carried out in community service activities by Adiyanto using Instagram social media (virtual talkshow) in collaboration with the Yogyak Feminist community and Women Today. Talkshows are conducted by discussing various forms of sexual violence and their effects, social constructions that normalize violence and how to prevent and handle when sexual violence occurs in an academic environment.\textsuperscript{7} Previous research on TikTok and its influence was conducted by Satria Aji Kamajaya, 2020, with the title: "The Influence of TikTok App Usage on Self-Actualization Among Generation Z". The results of this study found that the attractiveness of using the TikTok application affects the self-actualization of Unsika Communication Science students, while the intensity and content of messages using the TikTok application has no effect on the self-actualization of Unsika Communication Science students.\textsuperscript{8} The difference with this study is that in our research this time we focused the object of our research on the followers of content creator activists on TikTok to find out directly whether the videos they see can have an effect on them or not.

This research uses qualitative approach methods. Qualitative approach according to Bodan and Taylor is a research process that produces descriptive data in the form of written or oral words and behavior that can be observed from humans, with an overall focus on the background and individuals. So, the qualitative research process begins by compiling basic assumptions and rules of thinking that will be used in research and then the data collected in the research will be interpreted.

The survey conducted in this study used the TikTok application as a place to look for objective data used to answer questions that have been set in the study. TikTok is a social media platform that is trending at this time, in the TikTok application TikTok users can express ideas freely in the form of short videos, not only that tiktok users can also see videos, like, and comment in videos uploaded by others.

The data source is done by looking for content from creators (activists) who contain about the prevention of sexual harassment, the content in the TikTok content, the interaction of TikTok users on the content, as well as the views of TikTok users in the prevention of sexual harassment. Data collection techniques for this study spread questionnaires to TikTok application users and followers of creator content containing sexual harassment prevention. In table 2 some question that can we draw conclusions that the respondents already can understand or know about abuse sexual that is 98.4% of respondents can know the meaning of abuse sexual. respondents can complete cases that we have given in the questionnaire about prevention abuse sex in life daily example case the i.e. " when " you see woman wearing what skimpy clothes you pay attention and touch woman the "100% respondents " answer no, in case the including into the abuse doing sexual verbally or directly, the paradigm that is formed in public think that majority abuse sexual occur because revealing clothes or inviting weather lust.

Based on Survey Abuse Sex in Public Space in 2018, explains the majority of victims of abuse sexual no wearing revealing clothes moment experience things that are not nice that. Abuse happens to those who wear skirt and pants length (18%), hijab (17%) and sleeves length (16%). The results of this survey also show that when the victim experienced abuse sexual majority happened at noon day (35%) and afternoon (25%). So can said that myths circulating in society no right. Abuse sexual pure happened 100% because intention perpetrator. No should be the victim who experienced abuse sexual blamed on crimes committed by others. In case this should be regulated and controlled not clothes worn by women, but thought perpetrator.
Example case next his namely catcalling 88.9% of respondents consider case the is actions that don't reasonable to do , catcalling, there is shape communication where the perpetrator give verbal expression of the victim for example through whistles and also comments about shape body they with attack attribute sexual victim. Chhun (2011) identifies catcalling as : the use of words that do not profanity , expression verbally as well as non-verbal expressions that occur happen on the spot public , for example : on the street highways , on sidewalks , and bus stops . Verbally , catcalling usually done through whistling or comment about appearance from a woman . Nonverbal expressions also include lyrics or gesture physical act for give evaluation to appearance a women ( Chun , 2011).\(^{13}\)

In case next that is Example case , Andi is be on the train he see Barrel currently talk with man which not known . In look her face Barrel seen feel no comfortable be beside man the because man that hold thigh Laras , but Andi doesn't reprimand man that and let so just because no want follow mix is Andi 's action is right or wrong? 91.8 Respondents wrong answer shows in case that still many someone who doesn't want to help victims of abuse sexual , they more good silence and choose for no know nothing . Lack of empathy somebody so that reluctant for help victims. Empathy is ability somebody for understand corner look at others (perspective taking) and feel other people ‘s feelings (empathic concern)\(^{14}\)

The results of our data conclude are users application TikTok no so interactive on content about prevention sex they only watch and enjoy the video . Only a number of Sufficient Indonesian content creators famous for lift theme prevention abuse sexual , but results from prevention video abuse sexual make perception and view about woman Becomes more ok , users TikTok have each other ‘s perception about prevention abuse sexual who knows it's a pro or counter as well as users application TikTok start aware about prevent ion abuse sexual . in cases that have we give to respondent we take conclusion that respondent already can embed prevention abuse sex on her alone however not yet can help victims of abuse sexual in front of the public.
